AWFUL WRECK
ON THE B. & O.SCORES MEET DEATH IN A
FRIGHTFUL MANNER

Sixty-three Killed and Many Injured in Collision Near Connelville, Pa.—Train Crashes Into Pile of Lumber.

Connelville, Pa., Dec. 23.—With a terrific crash the Duquesne limited, the fastest through passenger train from Pittsburgh to New York, on the Baltimore & Ohio, ploughed into a pile of lumber at Laurel Run, two miles west of Dawson, to night, and it is estimated fully sixty-three lives were lost and thirty persons injured.

When approaching Laurel Run the train was running at a high rate of speed. Suddenly the passengers were thrown from their seats by lightning-like application of the brakes and a moment later there was a terrific crash. The train was made up of two baggage, two day coaches, a sleeper and dining car, and was carrying at least 150 passengers. The train ploughed along for a considerable distance and the cars were torn to pieces, passengers jumping, screaming and falling from the wreck as it tore along. Suddenly the engine swerved and the coaches plunged down the embankment to the edge of the Youghiogheny river.

The minute the cars stopped rolling there was a wild scene. Many were pinned beneath the wreckage and screams and cries that rent the air were beyond description. Many were injured in their mad excitement and plunged into the river, others, pinned beneath heavy timbers, pined in agonized tones for release. So terrible was the force of the wreck that nearly every passenger suffered a moment's unconsciousness and many alighted men were unable to assist in helping the injured from the wreck on account of having fainted.

THE DEAD.
ENGINEER WILLIAM THORNLEY, Hazelwood, Pa.
DIVISION ENGINEER S. G. HEATER, Hazelwood, Pa.
FIREMAN THOMAS COOK, Hazelwood, Pa.
HERBERT HOLMES, Emmelton, Pa.
JESSE JONES, Tabor, N. C., news company agent.
CHARLES LINDFORD, Confluence, Pa.
EDWARDS, Pittsburg, wife in Cumberland.
J. W. MARTIN, Hancock, Md.
EDISON GOLDSMITH, Connellsville, Pa.

The other fifty-three dead are mostly foreigners and negroes who were riding in the smoking car. The work of their identification has not yet begun.

All the injured are from points in Pennsylvania, Maryland and West Virginia.

Fatally injured: Henry Davin, Rockwood, Pa.; C. H. Linford, East McKeesport.

Seriously injured: J. A. Allfurer, Beaton, W. Va.; Harry Devlin, Connellsville.

Others were only slightly injured, suffering bruises and cuts.

ROASTED TO DEATH.

Most of the killed were foreigners who were in the smoker. They were literally roasted to death, the baggage car and smoker telescoping the engine and immediately catching fire. Their bodies are lying, many of them burned to a crisp, in the baggage room of the Baltimore & Ohio depot. A peculiar feature of the accident is the fact that not a woman was injured excepting slightly.

The wreck was caused by breaking of castings on a car load of bridge timbers on a west bound freight train which had passed Laurel Run not more than fifteen minutes before the ill-fated passenger train. The wreck occurred on a curve and it was impossible for Engineer Thornley to see far enough ahead to detect the obstruction on the tracks.

The big engine plunged into the timbers at a velocity of sixty miles an hour. The engine ploughed into the embankment and the baggage and express cars were thrown in the river. The smoker followed the engine and landed squarely on top of it. This allowed escaping steam from the engine to fill the car. The smoker was packed to its utmost capacity and all passengers were cooked alive. Not a single passenger in this car escaped with his life and it is estimated at least forty of the dead were in the smoker.

HEROIC DEED OF BAGGAGEMASTER.

Baggagemaster Baum, of Hazelwood, with his head and body frightfully cut, crawled from the wreckage and groping his way along in the darkness flagged a west bound passenger train by taking off his coat and setting fire to it. He stopped the train in time to prevent it plunging into the wreck and adding further horror to the already indescribable disaster. Baum collapsed when he saw he had succeeded in stopping the train and when the engine stopped he was lying within a few feet of it.

TRAIN WAS DEMOLISHED.

For more than five hundred feet both the east and west bound tracks were torn up. The engine was completely demolished and the big tank or tender was thrown 100 feet from the wreckage. All cars were derailed and trucks of all except the diner torn completely from underneath the cars. As soon as the wreck was reported all available physicians were rushed to the scene and injured cared for. In a single row on the embankment were placed the bodies of thirty-eight dead, while in another row were eleven and scattered here and there through the underbrush were dead bodies of many who had been able to crawl from the wreckage, but died before aid reached them. Under his engine lay Engineer Thornley, disemboweled and burned almost beyond recognition.

GHOULS ROBBED THE DEAD.
Hardly had the bodies of the dead been removed from the coaches until thieves began robbing the dead of jewelry and money. A strong force of special officers soon stopped the work of the ghouls. It is charged that foreigners who escaped serious injury immediately set about robbing their more unfortunate countrymen and dead as well as injured were robbed of money and other valuables.

At 2:30 (this Thursday) morning it was definitely known sixty-three persons are dead. hTe bodies are now all in the morgue, piled up in a gruesome mass and in such indescribable tangle it is impossible to pursue the work of identification. It is probable at least half the dead will never be identified.

ANOTHER WRECK.
Morris, Ala., Dec. 23.—The second section of a through train on the Louisville & Nashville railroad, running late, collided head-on with the Deatur accommodation train south of here this afternoon. Henry Allen, mail clerk, was killed and Hollis Wright, engineer, fatally injured.

A FREE MAN

Man Who Held up Mail Car and Secured a Two Cent Stamp Out of Prison.

Sioux City, Iowa, Dec. 23.—Ellsworth P. DeFrance to day stepped from the penitentiary a free man after having served a term of fifteen years, less good time allowance, for the theft of a two-cent postage stamp. The case was the most remarkable in the history of western courts. DeFrance was convicted in the federal court of Nebraska for holding up a mail car. Although it was shown at the trial he secured only a two-cent stamp, he was sentenced to imprisonment for life. President McKinley commuted his sentence to fifteen years imprisonment.

ARNOLD'S CREDITORS.

St. Louis, Dec. 23.—The Gottschalk Printing company, which did printing for E. J. Arnold's "get-rich-quick" concern, and Dr. A. W. Williams, a depositor with Arnold, have given Walter E. Cole, referee in bankruptcy, the task of deciding whether the printing of Arnold circulars or the deposit of money with Arnold constituted the greater degree of complicity in his gambling scheme.

The printing company in seeking to establish priority of its claim for $1200 alleges that the depositors were interested in gambling and have no recourse. The depositors, through Dr. Williams, plead that the printing company by disseminating information concerning Arnold's scheme, was equally guilty with him in gambling and has no recourse. The hearing will be held Dec. 23.

A BOY SHANGHAIED.

Janesville, Wis., Dec. 23.—Relatives of Rudolph McCummings, a Janesville boy, fear he has been shanghaied on board a vessel on the Pacific. McCummings left for Portland, Ore., many months ago. To day his mother received a card from the German consul at Victoria, dated Dec. 12, and reading as follows:

"The Astoria, with Rudolph McCummings on board, has touched at this port. If you wish to communicate with him you must do so immediately, as the vessel leaves soon for parts unknown."

The German consul was immediately wired, asking if McCummings was detained against his will and requesting that he be taken from the boat.

ADMIRAL WALKER'S OPINION.

Washington, Dec. 23.—At a conference at the white house to day Rear Admiral Walker informed the president that in his opinion it would be expedient to leave to the marines protection of Panama and that it was unnecessary to increase the force of marines already in Panama or in isthmian waters. Walker thought sending of regular troops might cause a feeling of uneasiness.

Despite Walker's peaceful report the probability is that two more battalions of marines will sail probably Monday on the Dixie from Philadelphia for Colon. Besides the marines the Dixie will carry a number of rapid fire guns.

RAILROAD APPOINTMENT.

St. Louis, Dec. 23.—Announcement was made to day by President Ramsey of the Wabash railroad of appointment of Horace G. Clark as manager of the Western Maryland and West Virginia Central & Pittsburg railroads, with headquarters at Baltimore, to succeed A. Robertson, who, on Jan. 1, becomes general manager of the St. Louis terminals. Clark is at present superintendent of the middle division of the Wabash system, with headquarters at Decatur, Ill.

EMBEZZLER ARRESTED.

Bozeman, Mont., Dec. 23.—Upon telegraphic instructions Sheriff Marshall, of Atlantic, Iowa, local officials have arrested M. H. Lytle, wanted in Iowa to answer the charge of embezzling funds belonging to the Des Moines Elevator company.

JAPAN DRAWS
THE LINEDETERMINE TO FIGHT BEFORE
YIELDING,

The Optimistic Feeling Concerning War Between Russia and Japan Not Shared by Diplomats at Peking.

Peking, China, Dec. 23.—Optimistic feeling in some quarters concerning war between Japan and Russia is not shared by other diplomats at Peking whose knowledge of the present situation entitles their opinion to the highest consideration. It is positively known that Japan has drawn the line for settlement, beyond which it will not make any material concessions, and that she is determined to fight before yielding what she considers to be her vital interests. It is believed that unless Russia concedes important points another exchange of notes will precipitate matters. It is also believed Japan will refuse any arrangement holding in abeyance the question of the evacuation of Manchuria, which was one of the terms of the proposed arrangement recently announced from St. Petersburg, and which it is now supposed was intended by the Russian government as a "feeler." This would be a violation of expressed pledges given Japan and China.

Intelligent Chinese officials await developments with the deepest anxiety. They foresee many perils menacing China in the event of war and the possibilities are that partition of the empire may result from China's inability to maintain neutrality of her harbors and subjects.

PREPARING FOR WAR.

London, Dec. 23.—Special dispatches to London newspapers agreed practically nothing to the news already given by the Associated Press on the far eastern situation and deal mainly with alleged Japanese naval preparations.

The Mail's correspondents give a rumor of intention of Russia to seize Chang Wang Tao. A Japanese squadron of six battleships has left Sasebo twenty-five miles north of Nagasaki.

The Telegraph's correspondent at Nagasaki says that the Japanese fleet is replacing soft coal in its bunkers with hard Welsh steam coal and also that all superfluous woodwork on the vessels is being removed.

In financial quarters, both at London and Paris, confidence is still unshaken that peace will be preserved. This confidence is reflected in firmness of Russian bonds, which, though only held to a small extent in England, are held in France at an amount between one billion dollars and one billion five hundred millions dollars, and it is contended this fact alone will induce Foreign Minister Delcasse to make the strongest of efforts to prevent Russia going to war. The amount of Japanese bonds in Great Britain is said not to exceed ninety-five million dollars.

SHIPBUILDING CASE

New York, Dec. 23.—During hearing of the United States Shipbuilding case to day Attorney Guthrie brought up a sensational extraneous subject by stating he had been informed the process server who served the subpoena upon John W. Gates yesterday had used Guthrie's card to gain access to Gates. Undermeyer said the subpoena had been served by an employee of his office and that if he had resorted to "any such unprofessional conduct" he would be immediately discharged.

Gates was to have been examined to day. He appeared at the hearing accompanied by counsel but upon stating he knew nothing of matters on which Undermeyer desired to interrogate him he was excused.

CLAIM BUT ONE MAN WAS KILLED.

Indianapolis, Dec. 23.—Officers of the Big Four state that but one man, Conductor Herzalt, of an extra train, was killed in the wreck reported from Paris, Ill. A train was on the main track waiting for the extra to stop to take the siding. The extra for some unknown reason failed to do so and a head-on collision resulted.

SENATOR HANNA'S CONDITION.

New York, Dec. 23.—Senator J. Hanna, who has been confined to his room at the Waldorf-Astoria by a severe cold, was so far recovered to night that he left for Washington.

COTTON CAUGHT FIRE.

Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 23.—At a Christmas entertainment at a school near Denton to night John Shields and Kate Sullivan were perhaps fatally burned and others slightly injured. Miss Sullivan, acting as Santa Claus, was enveloped in cotton which took fire. Shields and others went to her assistance.

STRUCK BY TRAIN.

Decatur, Dec. 23.—Mrs. Fred Smith and her daughter, Miss Otto (Udowski), while going to their home after evening Christmas presents were run over by an Illinois Central train. Both were taken to the hospital.

PROSECUTION
OF STRUBE

Mason County Board of Supervisors Will Employ Insanity Experts.

Havana, Dec. 23.—The board of supervisors of Mason county has taken steps to assist in the prosecution of Fred Strube for the murder of his sweetheart, Alice Henninger. A secret session was held Friday and State's Attorney Guy R. Williams was empowered to secure the services of three insanity experts, who are to examine Strube before his case is called for trial.

It is claimed that Strube, through his attorneys, will plead insanity, and to secure advice for the state this move was made by the supervisors. Whether or not Strube will submit to such an examination is a serious question. He has already retained counsel to take charge of his case and it is not probable that they will allow any steps to be taken which might weaken their defense. The board also empowered Mr. Williams to secure the services of any attorneys necessary to prosecute Strube.

It is probable that a number will be engaged, but just who they will be has not yet been decided upon. The action of the board of Friday last was kept a secret until to day, when it leaked out, and no denials have been entered.

KANSAS CITY TRAGEDY

Man Kills His Sister-in-Law and Then Fatally Wounds Himself.

Kansas City, Dec. 23.—Samuel W. Lee, aged 39, shot and killed his sister-in-law, Florence Lee, aged 23, at her home here to day and then made a tragic effort to end his own life. Lee is a widower and his sister-in-law had been his housekeeper. To day she announced her intention of marrying a Kansas man and made preparations to leave the house. After vainly trying to persuade her to marry him Lee shot the woman four times, then fired two bullets into his own breast. When neighbors broke into the house the woman was dead. Lee snatched up a razor and running into the street, followed by half a dozen persons, slashed his throat as he ran. He is fatally wounded.

MANILA NEWS

Manila, Dec. 23.—Governor Taft has pardoned several Filipino prisoners on approach of the Christmas festival. Priest Leonardo Depusey, under sentence of death by military court for burying alive the president of Taylay, had his sentence commuted to twenty-five years imprisonment.

Ladrones recently looted the municipal treasury at Bosoboso, in Luzon. They captured the president and cut the tendons of his heels.

Agreement for sale of friar lands has been signed and takes effect in six months. Governor Taft leaves Thursday for the United States via Tokio and Honolulu.

GOVERNOR TAFT LEAVES MANILA.

Manila, Dec. 23.—Governor Taft was given an enthusiastic farewell to day (Thursday). A military guard of honor escorted him from the palace to the Luneta, where he reviewed 5,000 troops, who were followed by a procession of civilian employees, accompanied by a dozen bands. Thousands lined the line of march. Many delegations came in from outside provinces. Scores of boats accompanied Governor Taft's launch to the steamer on which he sailed at midnight.

ARRESTED FOR MURDER.

Eldorado, Iowa, Dec. 23.—William Slifer, a farmer of Melrose township, was arrested by the sheriff of Grundy county to day of charge of murder. It is alleged he is responsible for the death of his bride of less than a year. She died in bed while he was sleeping by her side. An empty chloroform bottle was found on a dresser nearby.

RECEPTION BY POPE.

Rome, Dec. 23.—The pope received all cardinals and high prelates to day. They exchanged the season's greetings. The function was unusually interesting as it was the first of the kind under the present pontiff.

STEEL PLANT CLOSED.

Chicago, Dec. 23.—The entire plant of the Illinois Steel company at South Chicago has been closed down for an indefinite period, throwing 6,500 men out of employment. When the mills are reopened, it is reported, a wage cut of 10 to 15 per cent will be put into force.

FOURTEEN-YEAR-OLD GIRLS WED.
Sullivan, Ill., Dec. 23.—Two couples were married here yesterday, one by Justice Purvis and the other by S. W. Wright, Jr. Each bride was but 14 years of age. The contracting parties were Clement M. Rice, of Greenville, and Sarah E. Morris, of Shelbyville, and J. W. Bush, of Sullivan, and Vera E. Rice, of this city.

ANDREWS BACK
IN DETROITTHE BANK WRECKER AR-
RIVES AT HOME

Served Year and Four Months of His Sentence—Will Work to Pay Every Penny He Owes and Clear up Controversies.

Detroit, Dec. 23.—Accompanied by his attorney and several newspaper men, Frank C. Andrews, former vice president of the wrecked City Savings bank of this city, who was released from Jackson prison on parole last night after serving a year and four months of his fifteen-year sentence, arrived in Detroit to day. He went immediately to his home. In a brief statement of his intentions Andrews says: "My first care will be to clear up tiresome controversies and end legal tangles and bring a stop to law proceedings, the continued publicity of which is placing the banking institutions of Detroit in a bad light all over the country and injuring the commercial interests of the city. I will work night and day until I have paid every penny I owe."

WASHINGTON NEWS

Washington, Dec. 23.—Lawrence O. Murray, of Chicago, has been chosen assistant secretary of commerce and labor by the president and has accepted the office. His nomination will be sent to the senate immediately after the holiday recess. The appointment was made on personal recommendation of Secretary Cortelyou.

Secretaries Root and Shaw had a conference with the president to day concerning settlement of the Philippine friar land question. The matter has been closed finally, the government paying to the friars $23,000 for their interests.

The postoffice department has decided upon designs for the St. Louis world's fair stamps which will bear portraits as follows: One cent, Robert R. Livingston, minister to France; two cent, Thomas Jefferson; three cent, James Monroe; five cent, President McKinley; ten cent, map of the United States showing territory purchased from France. The colors will be those used for like denominations in general use.

It was announced at the navy department to day that the sunboat Bennington would convey the torpedo boat destroyers Preble and Paul Jones from San Francisco to Panama.

Secretary Root was asked to day if it was true as reported that he was being urged to succeed Hanna as chairman of the Republican national committee. He professed ignorance of foundation for the report that his name was being considered for the position named.

The secretary of the interior to day refused the application of the city of San Francisco for permission to begin necessary construction toward obtaining a water supply from Yosemite National park. The city proposed to expend $3,000,000 on the works. Adverse action is based on the fact the organic act creating the park requires the government to keep it in its natural condition. The city wished to build a dam at the end of Hetchichy valley and convert its valley into reservoirs. It also was proposed to dam up an end of Lake Eleanor. The department holds that such works would obliterate or deface the natural wonders of the park.

By reason of greater rapidity with which new ships for the navy are being advanced to completion and Secretary Moody has transmitted to congress an urgent request for an appropriation of $2,000,000 for armor and armament to be made without delay. Moody also has asked for immediate appropriation of $20,000 to enable payment to be made Cuba for land acquired by the United States for Guantanamo naval station and to enclose same.

The president has denied thirteen applications for pardon and granted four pardons to restore civil rights and exercised clemency in seven other cases.

ABANDON BOND ISSUE.

New York, Dec. 23.—The directors of the Rock Island company have decided to abandon the great $50,000,000 issue, announcement of which was made last summer, says the Herald. This decision will be announced to stockholders at the adjourned meeting scheduled at Davenport, Iowa, Jan. 7. The reason for the decision is the directors deem it inadvisable to carry out the scheme, which involved all issues of various controlled lines at the present time, and as the company is said not to be in need of money, there is no necessity for its consideration.

A DECREASED MAJORITY.

London, Dec. 23.—Rowland Hunt, Liberal Unionist and supporter of Joseph Chamberlain's fiscal policy, has been elected to represent Ludlow division of Shropshire in the house of commons, to succeed Robert J. Moore. Liberal Unionist, deceased, by a majority of 570 votes. Moore was elected by 4,000 majority.

RESUMED BUSINESS.

Baltimore, Dec. 23.—The Union Trust company, which went into the hands of a receiver Oct. 19, opened its doors to day for resumed business.

HAD A ROUGH TRIP

Kronprinz Wilhelm Had Battle With High Winds—Also Had Smallpox Case Aboard.

New York, Dec. 23.—The North German Lloyd steamer Kronprinz Wilhelm arrived to night from Bremen, Southampton and Cherbourg after a very rough, tempestuous voyage. The steamer lost one blade of her port propeller three hours out from Cherbourg, which reduced her speed. High winds prevailed from the start and Sunday night increased to hurricane force, making but 31 knots that day. The third day out from Cherbourg a steamer passenger developed smallpox and was isolated. On arrival at quarantine he was removed to the contagious hospital and twenty-four of his fellow passengers transferred to Hoffman island for observation. After disinfecting the steamer's hospital and steamer health officers permitted her to go to the dockage.

INDICT LABOR LEADERS

Chicago, Dec. 23.—The grand jury to night voted indictments against four men prominent in labor circles. They are J. H. Johnson, business agent brass workers' union; Lee Fisher, secretary International Order of Machinists; R. S. Crane, business agent machinists; James J. Lamb, business agent International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. The indictments charge conspiracy to wreck the business of the Kellogg Switchboard and Supply company during the strike early last spring. The grand jury refused to indict Charles F. Lang, foreman of a local printing house, who shot and killed Emil Reichow, a picket allied with the striking press freedom of Franklin union. Lang was himself union man and was assaulted by a mob of which Reichow was one. He fired one shot, which struck Reichow and caused his death. Lang established a clear case of self-defense.

VERDICT OF MURDER.

Des Moines, Iowa, Dec. 23.—Inquiry into the death of Mrs. Charles W. Graves, whose charred remains were found by her husband, resulted in a verdict of murder. No arrests have been made.

Bidding defiance to detectives who have been working on the case without results, Winnie Reader, or Mrs. Walter Halbach, the actress, within twenty-four hours after returning home, swore out information charging her stepfather C. W. Graves, with the murder of her mother. The couple had not been on good terms and divorce proceedings had been instituted. Graves was arrested this afternoon and is now in jail.

ONE THOUSAND IN BILLS STOLEN.

Bloomington, Dec. 23.—When a package received by the People's bank from New York city and supposed to contain $1,000 in bank bills was opened on its arrival here it was found that the bills had been abstracted and pieces of paper cut to the same size substituted for them.

The bills were sent through the United States Express company and the detectives of that institution have been put to work on the case. They are very reticent and if a clew to the thief has been discovered it has not been made public.

DEATHS.

New York, Dec. 23.—Rear Admiral Edwin White, retired, died from apoplexy at the navy yards to day. He had come from his home in Princeton to visit Rear Admiral Rodgers. White was a native of Ohio and entered the service in November, 1861.

Savannah, Ga., Dec. 23.—Judge Pope Barrow died suddenly this evening, aged 64. He was United States senator from 1882 to 1888.

MARRIAGE AT PITTSFIELD.

Pittsfield, Dec. 23.—Arthur R. Hough and Miss Letta M. Weinart were married Sunday evening at 6 o'clock in the parsonage of the First M. E. church by Rev. W. P. Bowman.

HALE'S OPINION.

Washington, Dec. 23.—Senator Hale, in an interview with the Post to day, said he thought the Panama canal treaty would go ratified. He does not like the situation and thinks it will "involve expensive and profitable trouble." He said "Columbia was holding us up and we were committed to the building of the canal by the United States, and as some kind of government had been set up in Panama we were compelled to come to terms with that government."

A PISTOL FIGHT.

Savannah, Ga., Dec. 23.—As the result of a pistol fight in an alleged gambling room here to day Thomas J. Reynolds is dead, James L. Doss is dying and Julien Rosenthal wounded.

Nosho, Mo., Dec. 23.—Cooper Landreth and Vest Collins, rivals in a love affair, met at a dance here and engaged in a pistol duel in which both men were killed.

WILL FIGHT TO THE ENDLIVERYMEN AND UNDER-TAKERS SO DECIDE

Will Reopen Establishments on the "Open Shop" Plan and Ask for Protection—Strikers Still Interfere With Funerals

Chicago, Dec. 23.—While liverymen and undertakers were making preparations to day to resume service to patrons, "pickets or no pickets," indignities continued to fall to the lot of funeral parties. The driver of an ambulance which was taking a body to a train was made the target of abusive epithets. In another instance mourners were delayed by pickets until the body which they accompanied had been placed aboard a train and the train had left the station.

The struggle between the liverymen and undertaker's association and livery drivers' union, which for the past six days has seriously interfered with the burial of Chicago's dead, as no hearses or carriages have been available for funerals, is to be a fight to a finish, all efforts looking to settlement of the strike by conciliation having been abandoned to night.

At a meeting of employers to night the conservative element opposed opening the stables, but favored further overtures looking toward arbitration. They were defeated and the decision was reached to resume business to morrow on the "open shop" plan and to ask the court for an injunction to prevent interference by union pickets. Union men predict trouble if the proposed plan is tried.

The chief of police to night informed the employers police have been instructed to give the utmost protection in carrying on funerals. Employers say if police protection fails they will call upon the sheriff and if that does not avail they will appeal to the governor for troops.

THREATS MADE.

Police were notified to night by two liverymen that threats have been made that their carriages will be smashed if they attempt to use them in funerals to morrow. One livery firm of Evanston has three funerals to morrow, all for Rose Hill cemetery. After being told their vehicles would be smashed if they went upon the streets liverymen warned relatives of the dead it would be advisable for them to go to the cemetery by train. The bodies will, however, be taken in hearses.

One of the largest funerals to be held to morrow will be that of Detective Thomas Farnsworth, a member of the police force. Arrangements have been made for a great number of carriages and a large police force will guard the funeral.

PERISHES IN BURNING HOME.

Pittsfield, Dec. 23.—Word was brought to this city to night that the home of Charles Hastings, near Barry, was destroyed by fire Saturday night and that his son, a young man 25 years old, was burned to death.

The father and mother barely escaped from the burning building with their lives. Both were badly injured by the shock and they may not recover.

The Hastings family lived in an out-of-the-way neighborhood, not reached by telephone, and the first news of the tragedy was brought to this city by P. C. Allen.

SUES SCHOOL BOARD.

Ashtand, Dec. 23.—A hung jury was the result of a suit between Miss Scripps and the Ashtand board of education, in which the former sought to recover $50 damages. The young woman was employed last fall to teach in the public schools. At the end of a month she was asked to resign, the board claiming that it was a part of the contract that she was engaged only for a month. Miss Scripps claimed that there was no such stipulation.

WARDEN AFTER MINISTERS.

Pittsfield, Dec. 23.—Deputy Game Warden Harbourn was here from Leveo township this morning in search of two Pike county ministers whom he wanted for hunting without licenses. One of them, Rev. M. Davis, of Baylis, came in, pleaded guilty and was fined $12.50. The other has gone to Quincy, but is expected to settle upon his return.

DEATH MAY FOLLOW FALL.

Waverly, Dec. 23.—Mrs. Sarah White, aged 90 years, who resides in the west part of the city with her son-in-law, John Deatherage, fell on the sidewalk and sustained the fracture of a leg. Owing to her extreme age and feebleness the hurt is considered dangerous and may be the cause of her death.

TYPHOID FEVER INCREASING.

Pittsburg, Dec. 23.—Typhoid fever is rapidly increasing in this city and threatening to take on the character of an epidemic. For the first twenty-two days of December there were 410 cases. The disease is virulent, a large proportion of those taken sick dying.

BOMBARDING PUERTO PLATA.

Cape Haytien, Dec. 23.—A Dominican warship is bombarding Puerto Plata.

Additional thirty days for acting as such.

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—Mayor-elect McLean has announced appointment of a Assistant Secretary of the Navy and also as police commissioner.

A DELIGHTFUL OCCASION

Wednesday afternoon the managers of the Old Ladies' home on Grove street planned and carried out an event which brought joy to the hearts of the dear occupants of the blessed place. A large evergreen tree was set up in the front room in front of a flag, and it was tastefully decorated with many handsome things and it was loaded with all manner of nice and useful articles for the ladies of the home. All were duly assembled in the place, residents, visitors and managers, and after order was called Rev. R. F. Thrapp offered an earnest prayer and then the good times began in real earnest. Name after name was called and laps began rapidly to fill up until each recipient had a good sized load to carry to her room. There were books, scissors, needles, thimbles, handkerchiefs, stockings, confectionery, nuts, ties, ribbons, combs and any amount of articles calculated to please those who were to have them. In addition many useful gifts for the institution were received: flour, provisions and other articles, some of them from a distance and all very acceptable, and for which thanks are duly tendered. The occasion was truly delightful and fully as much so to the givers as to the receivers.

A few facts relative to these goods. Each lamp is equipped with round wick, center draft burners, convenient wick lifters, patent blaze extinguishers (handy in case of accident), roomy oil pots, and built with extra heavy brass bases, insuring safety in their use. For decoration they closely resemble hand painted ware. The designs are carefully executed in harmonizing colors, rich, rare and pleasing.

For shapely shapes look us up, we are on dress parade in the Big Store's east window. Our lamp fashions are above criticism. Sorry we have not a photograph to show you. Take our word for it. Come and see the most extraordinary lamp bargains you ever had a chance to own.

They will appreciate it—I am sure they will—can't help it; nothing quite as acceptable as a lamp Christmas present.

VICKSBURG MONUMENT

COMMISSION DECIDES UPON DESIGN

Structure in Representation of the Roman Pantheon to Commemorate Valor of Illinois Soldiers

The Illinois Vicksburg monument commission, of which Judge T. B. Orser, of this city, is a member, recently held an important meeting in Chicago, at which the design for the Illinois Vicksburg monument was accepted.

It was the desire of the commission to commemorate the deeds of the Illinois soldiers who took part in the memorable siege in a manner different from the cold, hackneyed monumental style, and with this idea in view a member conceived the plan of erecting a structure that would be representative of the Roman Pantheon. The design of the architect, taken from that structure, met with favor and the commission will proceed along the lines indicated. When completed, it is said, the monument will be the grandest and most magnificent tribute ever paid to the memory of the soldier dead. It will be fifty feet high and fifty feet in diameter, not including the portico, which is of elaborate and artistic design. The interior will be lighted from the roof and surrounding the massive dome is a highly ornamental fringe of granite representing the American eagle with outstretched wings and emblazoned shields in alternation. Skirting the monument at about two-thirds of its height are the memorable words of Lincoln, "With malice toward none and charity for all," and the equally historical expression of Grant at Richmond, "Let us have peace." These splendid sentiments that have and will ever continue to echo down the corridors of time encircle the monument and stand out in plain bold letters chiseled in the granite.

The portico is sublime in its grandeur and is supported by six granite columns in Doric style. The sloping roof of the portico is surmounted by a large granite figure representing the American eagle with the shield between its talons and head well poised between its outspreading wings. The tympanum, between the upper and lower cornices of the portico, is very striking and represents files of soldiers marching before the recording angel. Across the middle portion of the architrave is inscribed the word "Illinois" in bold face letters. Just above the entrance to the monument are three frieze groups in bas-relief, the first representing Gov. Richard Yates presenting Grant with his commission; the second shows the running of the blockade at Vicksburg, and the third is a reproduction of the scene where General Pemberton of the confederate forces surrendered to General Grant.

The interior arrangement of the monument has not been neglected and here, in enduring tablets of bronze, will be recorded the names of every Illinois soldier who participated in the memorable siege of Vicksburg, together with the regimental commanders and subordinate officers. These tablets include the names of the living as well as the dead. The floor of the interior is in mosaic and here is recorded the names of the union generals who commanded at Vicksburg and the names of the colonels who were in command of brigades. The approach to the monument is by a series of stone terraces, graduating in tiers of one, two and three steps, and ending in a grand stairway of twelve steps, which leads across the porch to the entrance.

The monument is surrounded by a stone railing in coping and on each side of the main approach will be soldier statues of appropriate design. The monument will be situated in a grand park with many driveways, and along Union avenue will be placed the regimental granite markers, six feet high, bearing the inscriptions telling the regiment, colonel, lieutenant colonel, ranking captain and also the brigade, division and corps of which the regiment was a member. This marker is an upright slab on an extending base. The positions of the various Illinois regiments, seventy-seven in number, will also be designated with a marker in the form of a scroll and the inscription here will tell of the position, the loss in killed, wounded and missing.

It will be seen from the above that the work of the commission is on an extensive scale and it is certainly fitting that the state of Illinois should appropriate out of its vast resources funds for the carrying out of such a grand purpose. The living generations of the present can never pay the debt of gratitude due the men of '60 and '65, whose valor and patriotism made the union perpetual, but they can exhibit an affectionate regard and give it the visible expression that will result when the Vicksburg commissioners have completed the labor of love that has been imposed upon them.

In view of the fact that the monument is modeled after the historic Pantheon of Rome, a brief description of that historic edifice will be of interest.

The Pantheon at Rome was built by Agrippa, son-in-law of the emperor Augustus, in the year 27 B. C. It was erected in the Campus Martius and was dedicated to the gods of the seven planets, Apollo, Diana, Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn. The name signifies "very sacred." It is the only ancient edifice at Rome which is still in nearly perfect preservation, that is, the only one, the walls and vaults of which still stand. It was struck by lightning in the reign of Trojan and restored by Hadrian. After the expiry of Pagan worship the Pantheon stood unoccupied and under Phocas, the tyrant of the east, it was presented to Pope Boniface IV, who consecrated it as a Christian church in 609, under the name of Santa Maria ad Martyres. In the same year twenty-eight wagon loads of bones of the martyrs were brought from the catacombs and deposited therein. The height and diameter of the dome is 142 feet. The portico is 108 feet wide and twenty-eight feet deep. Throughout the ages it has been regarded as the chief ornament of the city of Rome.

Through the kindness of Judge Orser drawings of the monument and markers have been left at the Journal office and Prof. F. W. Sanford has also kindly loaned his photographs of the Pantheon, showing exterior, interior and side views. The drawings and photographs can be seen at the Journal office by those who desire to call.

THE DEATH RECORD.

KENNEDY.

Died, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. G. W. Prickett, near Waverly, Dec. 23, 1903, at 1:45 a. m., Mrs. Mary C. Kennedy, aged 74 years, 2 months and 8 days.

Mrs. Kennedy, who has lived in Waverly and community for many years, has the past few years been in very poor health, but the immediate cause of her death was dropsy and paralysis. She was the wife of Fletcher Kennedy, a very prominent citizen, who died several years ago.

There are several children who survive: D. C. Calhoun, of Waverly; William Calhoun, near Waverly; George Calhoun, of Kansas; Charles Kennedy, of Beardstown; F. E. Kennedy and Steve Kennedy, of Waverly; Mrs. Newt Hairgrove, of Virden, and Mrs. G. W. Prickett, Waverly.

Funeral services will be held at Prospect church Friday, Dec. 25, at 10 o'clock in the morning. Interment will be in Virden cemetery.

OHLENSLAGER.

George Ohlenslager died at 6 o'clock Wednesday morning at the home of his sister, Mrs. J. J. Schafer on East College avenue. The deceased was 58 years of age and was a resident of Terre Haute, Ind., but was brought here a month or two since on account of his sickness. A complication of diseases resulted in his death, which is sincerely mourned by all who knew him.

The deceased leaves four sisters: Mrs. J. J. Schafer and Mrs. F. Nielsen, of this city; Mrs. Symme, of Cincinnati, and Mrs. Ferris, of California. He also had three brothers: Rev. Louis Ohlenslager, Cincinnati; David and Frank, of Terre Haute. The deceased was a man whose life was exemplary and he had the respect of all who knew him.

The remains will be taken to Terre Haute for interment and Mrs. J. J. Schafer will accompany them.

CRONE.

Henry Croné, who would have been 65 years old Christmas day, died recently at his home in Virginia from a complication of diseases—asthma, dropsy and heart failure. He was a very wealthy retired farmer. He leaves a wife, one daughter, Mrs. Brockhouse, and one adopted daughter, Mrs. Schone. He had been sick for years and had not been out of his house for a year.

FUNERALS.

NEWMAN.

The funeral of Mrs. George A. Newman was held at Asbury church Wednesday, many attending the services. Rev. Mr. Browning, of Franklin, was in charge and made appropriate remarks. There were many beautiful flowers, conspicuous among them being a design sent by the Missionary society, of which the deceased was a member. Mrs. F. M. Coard, Mrs. Dyer and Miss Mattie Smith were in charge of the flowers. The bearers were: F. Craven, J. M. Green, William Beckman, J. H. Hall, W. E. Barrows and G. A. Wawne.

Mrs. Newman, before her marriage, was Miss Hattie Belle Yeager. She was born Aug. 29, 1880, and was married March 30, 1896. The deceased leaves her husband and two children, James Ralph and Beatrice Violet. She was a woman of strong character and was beloved by all who knew her.

VASCONCELLOS.

The funeral of the late Daniel Vasconcellos was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of his mother, and was well attended by friends of the family. The services were of an appropriate character and were in charge of Rev. R. F. Cressy. Interment was in Jacksonville cemetery.

FOREST EXHIBIT

How a forest of exceedingly valuable timber may be grown in a score of years and made a source of profit within six or eight years, will be demonstrated in an interesting exhibit at the world's fair.

This exhibit will be made under the auspices of the International society of Agriculture. John P. Brown, secretary and treasurer of the organization, has consulted with the chiefs of departments of the world's fair and has made all arrangements.

That particular variety of catalpa tree known as Speciosa will be the basis for this exhibit and the great value and adaptability of this wood will be shown in all forms. The catalpa is indigenous to the Wabash bottom lands in Illinois and Indiana and may be grown in any section of the United States. The tree is known nearly everywhere, but its great value is just beginning to be understood. Nearly every boy knows the tree because of its long and slender seed pod which when dried burns much like tobacco, and is often known as the lady cigars.

It is the worth of the timber and its marvelously quick growth, that is designed to solve the problem of future railroad building and furnish a supply of lumber for all purposes.

In the world's fair exhibit a section of railroad will be built showing the adaptability of catalpa timber for ties. Old ties that have been in use for thirty-two years and not yet showing any signs of decay, will be shown. When it is shown that the average life of an oak tie is seven years, the catalpa's value on this line is demonstrated. There will be telegraph and telephone poles that have been in use as long, and fence posts will be exhibited that can be proven to have been in use for one hundred years.

Not alone for these purposes is the wood of the catalpa valuable. A prominent Dayton, Ohio car building plant will exhibit a section of a palatial car, all of the timbers of which, inside and out, are of catalpa wood. The timber possesses all the requirements for such work, being strong and susceptible to a fine finish. After it has been placed in the finish of a palace car it is often mistaken for oak, chestnut or cherry. Furniture factories will also exhibit fine chairs, desks and other furniture made from this wood.

The Arboriculture society's exhibit will not stop with showing the various uses to which the lumber from the catalpa tree may be put, but it will show how the catalpa forests may be grown anywhere within a few years. The seed is planted in good, rich garden soil and in a short while they spring up. The young shoots should be transplanted within a year, for the roots reach out in every direction and the best results are obtained from early transplanting. The trees should be set out in spaces of eight feet in either direction. The growth is exceedingly rapid, being uniformly one inch in diameter for each year. At the end of the sixth year the trees have attained a diameter of six inches. Then it is best for the trees to thin them out, cutting down each alternate row, and then each alternate tree in the rows that remain. This leaves the trees standing sixteen feet apart.

The trees that are cut may be used for posts and ties, and then the forest yields a fair return during the thinning process. "Ole ties" from oak trees are practically valueless, because of the sap in the latter year's growth of the tree. The wood that contains the sap soon decays and this contaminates the rest of the timber. There is practically no sap in the catalpa and "pole ties" from this wood last an indefinite number of years.

After the thinning out process the growth of the tree continues at the rate of one inch in diameter each year, and catalpa trees at eighteen years old often reach as high as 100 feet, thus yielding a large return of splendid lumber.

Among the large railroads to recognize the importance of tree planting in order to guarantee a supply of trees for the future is the Illinois Central. At a point near Du Quoin, Ill., 100,000 catalpa trees were planted three years ago, when President Stuyvesant Fish became interested in the work of the Arboriculture society. These trees are thriving now and in a few years, when the thinning out process begins many of the ties of the Illinois Central railroad will be cut from this forest, created in the heart of the vast Illinois prairie. The same road is planting similar forests in Mississippi, and contemplates the establishment of others.

The Automobile Race
Paris is beginning to go automobile boat crazy. A recent race for the new speed craft promoted by L'Auto drew an enormous crowd. The contest was at 100 kilometers (62 miles 246 yards) over a three lap course. The Lutec (80 horse) won in 8 hours 10 minutes 25 seconds, an average speed of 19 1/2 miles an hour.

A sixty horse craft took the lead at the start and was distancing all competitors when it got tangled in a net of wire near the outer mark and lost two hours. Once clear, it covered the second and third laps of about twenty miles each in 59 minutes 47 seconds and 59 minutes 48 seconds, a rate of about 20 1/2 miles an hour.

Lou Dillon on the Speedway.
The recent crowning of Lou Dillon, 1.58% queen of the New York speedway was a neat compliment to both owner and horse. Here we have again the champion trotter in the possession of a sportsman, a man who cares far more for the glory of excitement and sentiment of the thing than for the money he can make out of such a rare piece of animated machinery. Mr. Billings has taken Lou Dillon to the New York speedway and not satisfied with showing her to thousands of admirers has repeatedly speeded the wonderful mare to the delight of all beholders.

Archery at the St. Louis Fair.
The meeting of the National Archery Association of the United States to decide the national and international championships will be held in conjunction with the Olympic games at St. Louis, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Sept. 19, 20 and 21. The following committee has been appointed on archery: Dr. Edward B. Weston, chairman, Chicago; Wallace Bryant, Boston; W. A. Clark, Cincinnati; Charles R. Hubbard, Cincinnati; L. W. Maxon, Washington; Will H. Thompson, Seattle, and John Wilkinson, Chicago.

Earnings of Crescens.
The earnings of Crescens, 1.50%, in the stud and on the turf during the season aggregate close to $20,000. He earned $19,500 in the stud, and his ten exhibitions in the west, including his marvelous mile in 1:50% at Wichita, Kan., aggregate a trifle over $10,000. When Mr. Ketchum was offered $100,000 for Crescens last winter by a Canadian gentleman some of his friends advised him to sell, but his earnings capacity this season indicates that Mr. Ketchum's price, $125,000, was very reasonable.

As to Joe Grim.
It seems little less than marvelous that Philanthropist Joe Wolcott, Peter Maher, Jack O'Brien, Joe Gaus and Kid Carter, one and all, failed to knock out Joe Grim, the Italian pugilist. A Philadelphia physician advances the theory that Grim's brain is so small that he does not know when he is hurt.

ROMANTIC VIOLET

Violet had always been of a romantic disposition. Perhaps it was the effect of her name. She used to feel bitterly aggrieved with fate because her eyes were brown instead of blue or blue gray or blue black. But she religiously trained her brown eyes to look as melting as if they had been blue. She parted her hair in the middle and let a few curls—put up overnight—escape about her forehead. She was devoted to white muslin gowns and simplicity in general.

Violet was given to the keeping of souvenirs. She had a whole scrapbook full of dance cards, menus, German favors, pressed flowers, scraps of poems and the like, and—there was a methodical streak in her nature—there were a few words written beneath, "Souvenir for the assistance of family memory." For instance, beneath a carefully pressed and mounted white rose was the inscription: "June 9, 1883; high school graduation. From bunch given by Will L. M. Gave him one back." And beneath a bit of blue ribbon were the inspiring words: "Worn by me at picnic, Sept. 11, 1885. Jack has a piece too." It may be added that Violet never opened the book of souvenirs save for the purpose of adding another to her collection and cataloging it neatly.

Violet was twenty-six and still a sweetly sentimental person when Horace Vanderhoff and his uncle came within her circle of acquaintances. It was rumored that Horace would inherit his uncle's fortune eventually. He was a rather impulsive, somewhat poetic youth. He had written sonnets, it was said. He looked like Goethe at any rate and had a proper scorn of conventions, a fondness for moonlight rambles and a liking for the woods and sea. And Violet's friends said, "At last!" with great meaning when they saw Horace's infatuation for Violet.

He wrote her verses, all of which were duly entered in the souvenir book, and Violet read them with an unworldly little thrill in her sentimental heart and an unusual softness in her brown eyes. He brought her flowers, not the hotheouse blooms of convention, but little, shy things that grew in the woods and that should mean to her that even his walks were full of thought of her. His uncle sent occasional bunches of whatever costly blossoms struck his eye down-town, and all Violet's friends said it was pleasant of his uncle to help Horace's suit on, but that Horace understood Violet's romantic temperament better. Horace brought Violet his favorite books to read, and sometimes she tried to. When she didn't have time she merely looked unutterable things and begged him not to mind if she couldn't say much about them. She couldn't ever speak fluently of what affected her deeply.

It was one day when Horace had seen her taking her mission Sunday school class off to look at pictures or something of the sort that he told her he had something to say to her. He looked a little white as he made the announcement, and Violet paled a little too. As usual, she was very sweet to behold. The children had enjoyed their day and had admired her, which gave her a deeper pleasure in herself than usual and therefore a more entrancing look. But when she saw that look on Horace's face a sudden and quite uncommon feeling struck her. She said hastily:

"Please don't—please don't say anything."

"I must," answered Horace huskily. "I cannot go on this way any longer. When I see you, sweet and high minded and honest as the day—"

"No, no! You must not," protested Violet. Pity for him and a strong, hitherto unmet desire to be sincere made her go on. "I am not those things. I am afraid I know what you are going to say. Please do not. It is no use."

"You do not know," asserted Horace, "and it is of use. I cannot be insincere with you. It is impossible."

"Nor I with you. Do not go on. I am not what you think. I am not simple and honest. I am—don't say that you want to marry me, for I am engaged to your uncle since yesterday. That's the sort of woman I am."

Horace looked at her with a curious light in his eyes.

"I'm awfully sorry, Miss Kent," he said in conventional tones, "to have forced you into a perhaps unpremeditated announcement of your engagement. I was going to tell you that I was reproaching myself for not having told you before that I am going to marry Miss Augusta de Million. I didn't feel quite square about it, for you and I have had a slight affair of the heart, you know. But I'm glad you are going to marry Uncle Max. He's a trump if he is as poor as a church mouse."

"Poor!" said Violet. But Horace did not hear, for he had crossed to the piano and was asking her to sing "Robin Adair" to him. Before he went away he asked for a flower from her belt with as much earnestness as if the announcement had not been made. And Violet gave it gracefully enough. But she made no entries in her souvenir book that night.

The Kicker's Nightmare.
Strange shapes, some of them of enormous size, crowded around the sleeper's bedside and filled the air with curious, gasping sounds.

"Who is there?" demanded he, rousing himself and sitting up in bed.

"We are the ghosts of the fish over whose cruel capture and painful death you have gloated during all these years that have passed," replied the strange shapes.

"Huh!" he exclaimed contemptuously. "Nine-tenths of you are lies, and the rest of you are too small to frighten anybody!"

Whereupon he lay down again and presently was snoring as before.

HUANGA

GREAT CONVENIENCE.

Nothing Like a Telephone in the House to Benefit Your Neighbors.

"Yes," he said to the friend who was enjoying a cigar with him in the library. "I've had a telephone put in. 'It's a great convenience, isn't it?' 'Oh, a very great convenience.'"

Just then the telephone bell rang, and he went to see what was wanted. Presently his head appeared in the library doorway.

"Excuse me a moment," he said. "I've got to run next door and tell Mrs. Brown that some one wants to speak to her. In her pride over the possession of a telephone my wife foolishly told the Browns to use it whenever they wished, and they've told all their friends."

He came back with Mrs. Brown, who devoted several minutes to telling some one at the other end of the line that she was "so sorry baby had a cough."

"Nevertheless," he said when Mrs. Brown had departed, "it is a great convenience. Pardon me! There it goes again."

A minute or two later he glanced into the room again to say: "Got to run over and tell Mrs. Jones that her husband can't get home to dinner. Be right back."

He came back accompanied by a man who wanted to call up somebody at the club to tell him he couldn't be over that evening.

"Say," said the man when he was through, "my friend isn't there yet, but I left a message for him. If he calls up later will you be good enough to run over and let me know what he says?"

"Sure."

Just then a child appeared at the door with a piece of paper in her hand.

"Mamma's dressing to go out and can't come herself," he explained, "so she wanted to know if you wouldn't please call up Jensen's grocery and tell them to send up the things on this list the first thing in the morning."

When this was done the host made himself comfortable in the library again.

"As I was saying," he remarked, "the telephone is a great convenience—for the neighbors."—Brooklyn Eagle.

He Appreciated.

A new picture of some old ruins had been hung on the wall recently.

Jonathan—What is that picture, mamma?

Delighted Mamma (to herself)—Children see and appreciate more than we think they do. I will tell Jonathan all about the picture. (Aloud.) That is a picture of some old ruins in Greece. The figures holding up the roof are carved out of stone and are considered very beautiful.

Jonathan (thinking deeply, with a faraway look in his eyes)—Mm! What was the grease for?—Brooklyn Life.

Ambiguous.

Among a number of notes received by a teacher in excuse for the absence of children was the following:

"Dear Teacher—Kindly excuse Minnie for having been absent yesterday, as she fell in the mud on her way to school. By doing the same you will oblige her mother."—New York Times.

Not a Leader.

"Do you think your friend would lend himself to a shady political transaction?"

"No," answered Senator Sorghum. "He might lease himself or rent himself or sell himself outright, but he wouldn't stand any friendly borrowing."—Washington Star.

A Damper to Genius.

"Alas!" exclaimed the despairing poet. "For three hours I have sat here, but haven't written a line!"

"I'm sorry for you, dear," said his wife. "but what you need is exercise. Come and help me with the week's washing."—Atlanta Constitution.

Flattery.

Nell—I consider that he paid a flattering compliment to my good sense. Belle—in what way?

Nell—He didn't attempt to say anything flattering to me.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Quite True.

"D'youse believe dat he who hesitates is lost?"

"Yep, if he hesitates in front of a automobile."—San Francisco Examiner.

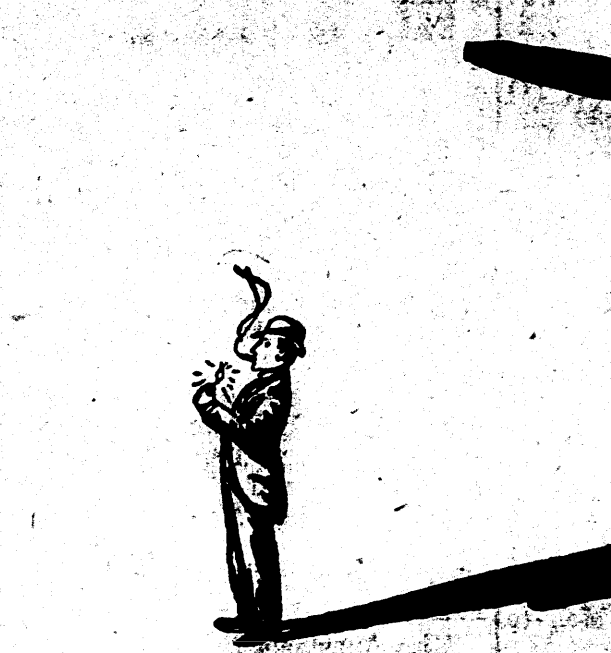

Behind the Scenes.

"Help! Help! The prompter has killed the leading woman!"

MEASURING HEAT.

How Science Determines Exact Degree of High Temperatures.

Until within a comparatively recent period the man in charge of one of the very hot ovens used in many industrial operations, such, for example, as the making of pottery or the manufacture of various kinds of glass, could only judge the heat of his oven by looking at it. Nowadays, however, as a result of the increasing demand for heat experts, pyrometry is taught as an exact science.

Even the most expert optical judgment, as was shown in a series of experiments made at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Boston at the time when heat measurement was first being established as an important study for the schools of technology, could not tell the heat of an oven of over 2,500 degrees with more than approximate accuracy. Pyrometry, however, has invented instruments that can exactly measure heat that is thousands of degrees above and cold that falls hundreds of degrees below the zero point.

One of the simpler instruments for determining a high temperature is the calorimeter. A ball of nickel or platinum is heated in the furnace whose temperature is to be tested and dropped into water. The water will immediately rise in temperature, and, the change having been noted by a thermometer, the amount of heat generated by the furnace itself may be readily calculated. Another interesting device is a small torpedo guaranteed to explode when exposed to a certain degree of heat, and there are various mechanisms that may be connected directly with ovens.

Modern pyrometry deals with cold as well as heat and has yet other instruments for measuring the lowest obtainable temperatures. One of the most curious of these is the so called thermopile, an electrical measuring instrument with a telephone attachment. The device is connected with a coil exposed to the temperature under question; so that a man in the central station of a refrigerating plant can hear reports from each without the necessity of making a daily inspection of all the local thermometers.

Trade Methods.

Facts came recently to the attention of the London Chronicle which the editor hopes do not make quite a representative comparison between English and American trade methods.

A manufacturer in Florence who makes boxes of a novel design and character, especially suitable for jewelers, submitted, post free, a sample box to a leading firm in the United Kingdom, accompanying the same with a letter. His letter, marked over with a huge cross, was returned to him with an indignant rebuke for his presumption and notice that the box would be returned unopened.

At about the same time this same gentleman sent a letter and sample parcel to a leading jeweler in the United States, equally unknown to him personally, and, though the American had to pay 60 per cent duty before he could open the packet, he accepted it, with results which have proved advantageous to both parties.

Coffee For Wornout Nags.

A simple and valuable remedy for restoring wornout horses is reported by a German naturalist, Herr Martin. He says he bought a horse which "was then almost a skeleton and so weak it could hardly walk" and began giving it coffee, sometimes in the form of infusions of the roasted beans and at other times ground and mixed with honey. Soon the horse began to improve, and after a few months Herr Martin had the opportunity to sell it for $250. The German says he has brought round by the same treatment many horses which had been overworked or were run down with loss of strength and appetite.

FAITH AND FACT.

Faith is one thing and fact is another. It sometimes takes any amount of faith to produce one fact. Years of earnest work and faith have produced one fact about medicine that is deserving of mention here. If people who are troubled with general weakness through overwork, disposition or exposure can get a remedy that will make rich red blood from the food they eat, their return to health is assured. "Good blood is the life of the body as well as the nerves. Weak, sickly, pale people who suffer with indigestion, dyspepsia, sick head ache, loss of strength and ambition, having dizzy spells and always tired, can be cured sound and well with Dr. Gunn's Blood and Nerve Tonic. Sold by druggists for 75c per box, or three boxes for $2. This tonic acts in a common sense way, curing disease by giving strength to resist it. Lee P. Allcott, druggist.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Air in Sleeping Rooms.

You would not think of drinking stale or poisoned water, would you? You know that if you were to be shut in an air tight compartment death would result. Of all the necessities of life, you can live longer without any of them than air. Impure air and darkness are the cause of an untold number of deaths annually. You know that on a sunless day, with a close atmosphere, you are out of sorts. But once let the sun shine brightly and clear the atmosphere, and how different, how much better, you feel in every way.

Cold weather is coming, and when you are tempted to close up the house as tight as it can be made remember these things and don't do it, especially at night. Keep the windows in the sleeping apartments open enough to at least give you sufficient fresh air. A cold room does not indicate that it is healthy; far from it. A sleeper will soon breathe up all the fresh air in a room, and if there is not a constant supply of fresh air he simply breathes over and over again the poison thrown off by his lungs, and the breathing of this vitiated air only tends to lower the temperature and vitality of the system so that it is not as capable of withstanding the rigors of winter.

Chestnut Stuffing.

For a young twelve pound turkey take about thirty large chestnuts; roast, peel and remove the inner brown skin. Put about ten of the chestnuts in a mortar with the cooked turkey liver and pound well; add a teaspoonful of minced parsley, a small silver onion (grated), salt and pepper to taste and the beaten yolks of two eggs.

Put this into the cavity from which the crop was taken and sew up. Take five or six links of small sausage partially fried in a little butter, cut them into pieces an inch long, add a cup of bread crumbs, half a cupful of butter and pepper and salt to taste. Add to this mixture the remainder of the chestnuts whole. Stuff the body with this, sew up, truss, rub the body with soft butter, salt and pepper, dredge with flour or crumbs and place strips of salt smoked bacon over the breast and parts that burn easily. Allow twenty minutes to every pound and baste frequently.

The Five o'Clock Teakettle.

The five o'clock teakettle is not permitted by the metal designers to shine forth by itself even though it be a model of luster and artistic decoration.

KETTLE IN GRIFFIN'S BEAK.

as in the accompanying illustration. The kettle is of bronze, with the Pompeian finish now having such a vogue, and the standard of the same material represents a griffin from whose beak is suspended the elaborately chased teakettle.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Kitchen Wrinkles.

To soften old putty apply to it a redhot poker, and then you will find it quite easy to scrape off.

Nutmegs may be tested by pricking them with a pin. If they be good the oil will be at once seen to spread round the puncture.

Wash new glasses in cold water for the first time or two, and they will be found to have a much clearer appearance than if washed in hot.

To prevent cheese becoming moldy wrap it in a cloth which has been dipped in vinegar and wrung as dry as possible. Keep in a cool place.

Do not keep sugar, tea, coffee and other such groceries in the bags in which they come. Have wooden or tin boxes. A great deal of the strength is lost when they are left in the paper bags.

After the juice has been squeezed from a lemon the peel and pulp should be saved for cleaning brasses. Dip the lemon first in milk and then in brick dust and rub it well on to the tarnished brass.

A Pocket Series.

A happy thought for a closet door is a series of pockets made of some pretty cretonne or other strong material of harmonizing color. The foundation is a strip of the material slightly narrower than the door and about two-thirds its length. To this are attached pockets of varying sizes, each one being bound with ribbon or tape and sewed firmly to the foundation. There should be a big pocket at the lower part for the safe keeping of the smooth bits of wrapping paper, so often needed, and at one end of it a smaller section for (twine). Above this should be pockets for shoes, and above these again pockets of varying sizes for various uses. At one side, extending nearly the length of the foundation, place a narrow pocket or case in which an umbrella can be kept.

THE HALL OF FAME.

The German emperor owns in his own name fifty-four palaces.

J. Joe Hartman of the United States supreme court celebrated on Dec. 9 the twenty-sixth anniversary of his appointment to that bench.

Benton Lee French of Idaho, by reason of his being the youngest member, is known as the baby of the house. He has just turned his twenty-eighth year.

Professor Charles Elliot Norton is seventy-six years of age. He is one of the few Americans of his age who live in the house in which they were born.

The German playwright Sudermann has earned 300,000 marks with one play, "Ehre." Cotta, the publisher of Schiller's plays, had paid him and his heirs up to 1833 275,000 marks.

William Archibald of Newark, N. J., has been awarded the silver medal and diploma of the St. Petersburg Photographic society. His pictures that won the prize were photographs of lightning flashes.

President Diaz is quoted as saying, "A strong personal government is necessary for a Latin race." Another saying attributed to the Mexican president is, "The strongest alliance I know of is a commercial alliance."

Rev. James William Adams, the only clergyman who ever won the Victoria cross, has just died in England. He won it during Roberts' march to Kandahar, rescuing two wounded lancers under the fire of the enemy.

Sir Edward Fry, who presides over the London water arbitration and who has just celebrated the seventy-sixth anniversary of his birthday, has for several years past been carrying on a crusade against secret commissions, his most recent exposure being of traders who offer a bribe to clergymen to puff their wares.

HORSES AND HORSEMEN.

A race track is being constructed at Kenosha, Wis.

Endow, 2:14 1/2, is the champion flyer of the Philadelphia speedway.

Baron Boy, 2:18 1/2, will be driven on the Buffalo speedway this winter.

Cupid, 2:18, is a full brother to Sidney Dillon, sire of Lou Dillon, 1:58 1/2.

Robert McGregor, 2:17 1/2, now has 101 standard performers to his credit.

The Lexington (Ky.) track is now having a winter covering placed on it.

Ed Geers thinks that The Monk can go to a record of 2:04 if trained next year.

A. E. Alvord of Syracuse, N. Y., has purchased the mare Sloppy Weather, 2:14 1/2.

Speedwayitis is the new veterinary term for horses that have had too much work on the speedways.

Trainer George Starr is able to get around and attend to business once more since his accident at Readville.

EDITORIAL FLINGS.

The sausage makers know how to do things just right. At their banquet in New York the principal toasts were "Public confidence" and "Faith."—Washington Post.

JEWELRY JOTTINGS.

Chatelaines, with their attendant trifes, curious or useful, again claim attention.

Buckles are carried out in the oddest conceits of the "new art," with gold, enamel and gems.

Short strings of gold beads for the neck are much seen. Like the pearl strings, the size varies much.

Bracelets continue to hold a popular place, and "danglers" of various sorts are beginning to be attached to them.

Long ropes of seed pearls worn in many strands, with heavily fringed tassels of the same; pearl collars of many rows, with diamond slides, and single strand necklaces of perfect pearls testify to the everlasting and marvelous charm of this peerless gem.—Jewelry Circular Weekly.

CHURCH STATISTICS.

Buddhism has established a mission center at Leipzig, Germany.

The Disciples of Christ, who number a million and a quarter members, made a net gain of 33,464 last year.

There are more than a million and a half communicant members of the Lutheran church in this country.

A hundred years ago William Carey established the first Sunday school in India. Now there are 12,000 schools and 300,000 scholars.

Twenty per cent of the entire population of Philadelphia is enrolled in the Sunday school and 23 per cent of the state population. Snyder county makes the remarkable showing of 55 per cent of all its people in the Sunday school.

INDICATIONS.

Washington, Dec. 24.—For Illinois: Rain Thursday and Friday; fair and colder; increasing south winds shifting to north.

TEACHERS' MEETING

Two thousand teachers from various parts of Illinois will go to Springfield on Tuesday, Dec. 29, to attend the annual meeting of the Illinois Teachers' association at the state house. The gathering promises to be the largest in the history of the organization. The various committees having the affair in charge have completed arrangements and many social events will be a feature of the gathering.

Fifty years ago the organization was launched, and the coming convention will be known as the "golden jubilee." A banquet will be served in the state arsenal, and already more than 500 educators have signified their intention of being present. During the convention the demonstration of the Foucault experiment will be made in the dome of the capitol. This experiment is used to show the rolling motion of the earth. A pendulum is suspended from the apex of the dome to the first floor of the capitol building. The deflection of this pendulum from the absolute perpendicular is considered to be due to the motion of the earth. This is the first time such an experiment has been tried in this city. It will be worth the attention, especially of those teachers who teach physics.

The music for the general meetings of the association will be furnished by the Imperial quartet of Chicago.

The officers of the association are as follows: W. L. Steele, of Galesburg, president; J. A. Mercer, of Peoria, first vice president; N. A. Arvey, of Chicago, second vice president; Miss Grace A. Reed, of Chicago, third vice president; R. N. Stotter, of Olney, treasurer; Edward C. Rosseter, of Chicago, railroad secretary; the executive committee being Henry S. Shyrock, of Carbondale; C. M. Bardwell, of Aurora, and Cora M. Hamilton, of Macomb.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM.

A very enjoyable Christmas program was given at Westminster church last evening and it was well attended in spite of the bad weather. A cantata, "Jolly Christmas," was given a very capable rendition and the audience enjoyed it thoroughly. The principal parts were taken by Miss Laura Gunn, Miss Bessie Breckon, Miss Antoinette Hight, Miss Ella Lamming, Miss Eleanor Ironmonger, George Mathews, Everett Martin, Charles Stewart and Eddie Cunningham. The cantata was presented under the direction of Mrs. Albert Rankin, and Miss Emma Rankin was at the piano. Mrs. Slayton was in charge of the fairies. After the musical part of the entertainment the children were invited into the Sunday school room, where a brilliantly lighted tree was waiting for them. There were numerous gifts on the tree and at its base were great boxes of oranges and candy for distribution. Misses Daisy Rayhill, Louise Holmes and Anna Duer were in charge of the tree. The whole evening was one the children and others enjoyed.

COMPANY L DANCE.

The first annual military ball and banquet given by Company L of the national guard took place at Armory hall last night and was a successful event. Mr. Barnett's orchestra furnished the music. The program arranged for the evening included addresses by Dr. A. H. Kemmler, Mayor John R. Davis, Rev. H. H. DeWitt and Col. J. R. Marshall.

STRUCK BY A CAR.

Detroit, Dec. 23.—One of the United States commissary sleighs, bearing a sleigh ride party of soldiers and young women, was struck by a trolley car to night. Sergeant James F. Lockwood was killed and Miss May William, of Detroit, probably fatally injured.

CONVICTED.

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Dec. 23.—W. L. Moore, street commissioner of this city, was this evening convicted of obtaining money under false pretenses from the city of Cedar Rapids by entering on the pay roll of the city a horse as "William Martin" and drawing excessive pay for the horse in that manner for ten months.

NEW GROCERY STORE.

B. F. Ferguson, who for five years has been employed in the grocery business in this city, has now gone into business for himself, having leased the store at the corner of South West and Anna streets. He has a meat market in connection with his groceries and lots of country produce always on hand. A delivery wagon will bring goods to your house and no better can be purchased anywhere in the city. Give him a trial. Telephone, Illinois, 239; Bell, 2407.

SURPRISE PARTY.

Ladies of the Macabees gave a surprise Wednesday evening in honor of Mrs. Rose McLaughlin. Several hours were very happily spent with games and refreshments were served.

Hold your prize coupons from Phelps & Osborne's, the lucky numbers will be published in the city and country papers and pasted in their large show window Friday morning. Come to the Basement holiday department today, the last day and get more Coupons.

FUNERAL NOTICE.

The funeral of Miss Anna Ward will be conducted from the Church of Our Savior at 9 o'clock this morning.

CORONER'S INQUEST.

The jury secured by Coroner Reynolds to investigate as to the cause of the death of John Bodkins, returned a verdict Wednesday that the deceased came to his death accidentally while stepping from a freight train at Alexander. The witnesses examined were H. Ruble, G. W. Casson, O. E. Ryan, G. F. Rohn and William Thompson.

THE MATRIMONIAL RECORD.

HACKMAN-SMITHSON.

The many Jacksonville friends of Frank Hackman will be surprised to learn of his marriage in Seattle, Wash., to Miss Marie Smithson. Mr. Hackman, who is very favorably known here, is now employed in a large dry goods store in Seattle.

CONOVER-HENDERSON.

Fred Conover and Miss Mary C. Henderson were united in marriage Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by Rev. Joseph Winterbottom, at his residence on West State street. Both young people are from prominent families in Morgan and Cass counties and are highly respected young people.

The bride is the daughter of Peter Henderson, of Litchberry, and the groom is the son of Charles Conover, of Little Indian. The couple will reside on a farm near Little Indian. They were attended by Mr. Conover, a brother of the groom, and Miss Anna Dinwiddie, of Litchberry.

DECKER-RAGSDALE.

The marriage of Fred E. Decker and Miss Nellie Ragdsdale, both of this city, was solemnized Wednesday at high noon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Ragdsdale, on East Morgan street.

It was a quiet home wedding, beautiful in its simplicity, and was witnessed by only the immediate relatives and friends of the contracting parties. The couple entered the east parlor to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, skillfully played by Miss Helen Johnston, of Pittsfield. The vows were received by Rev. A. L. T. Ewert, pastor of the Centenary M. E. church. The bride was married in her traveling gown of brown Venetian cloth.

After words of hearty congratulation had been spoken an elegant wedding luncheon was served and the table decorations were given an added beauty by the use of bouquets of carnations and roses.

The bride is a young lady of personal charms and attractive manner. This city has ever been her home and her popularity has been as deserved as it has been wide.

The groom, during his short residence of three years in the city, has made a wide circle of friends and is known for his manly traits and industrious habits. He is in the employ of the Kent-McCarthy Cigar company.

Mr. and Mrs. Decker left on the afternoon train for St. Louis and will visit in Versailles, Mo., at the home of the groom's parents, before their return. They will be absent about three weeks. Upon their return to this city they will go to housekeeping at once.

BOBBITT-MAWSON.

The marriage of Walter Bobbitt, of Chapin, and Miss Belle Mawson was solemnized at 6 o'clock Wednesday night at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Belle Mawson, a few miles west of the city. The parlor and other rooms at the disposal of the guests were very tastefully decorated with holly and evergreen and the effect was charming. Miss Jennie Lazenby was at the piano and as the notes of the wedding march sounded the bride and groom entered the parlor. They were attended by Herbert Mawson and Miss Myrtle Hills and the four stood before Rev. O. P. Baker, who performed the marriage service very impressively. The bride was attractively gowned in cream crepe de chine. Congratulations followed the service and later an elegant supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Bobbitt are both well known in the county as estimable young people and they have many friends to wish them happiness. They are to reside on a farm near Chapin.

POST-NUPTIAL PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hoffman entertained about fifty friends and relatives at dinner last evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Martin B. Hoffman, who were married in Chicago Tuesday. An elaborate dinner was served and was greatly enjoyed. The dining room was prettily decorated with smilax and American beauty roses. The various other rooms were beautified with roses and carnations. Among the guests were John A. Hoffman and family, and Mrs. Louise Long, of Springfield, and Fred Hoffman, of Pueblo. Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Hoffman will leave Friday night and will spend Saturday in Kansas City, reaching Denver Sunday night.
